FRANCE: Riviera Radio (ex-RMC Italian Service) is now operating on 702 kHz with 20 kW in English. They have plans to increase to 1200 kW. [1] via [2]

INTERNATIONAL WATERS: The Radio Ship, Radio Brod, went off the air on June 28th, on orders of the company owning the ship. This followed a complaint by the Yugoslavian government to the ITU. The government of Caribbean state of St. Vincent, where the ship is registered, had made the demand, on behalf of the ITU. The programming, promoting peace in the former Yugoslavia, was financed by the European Community. The ship is now in an Italian port undergoing overhaul, and taking on fuel, food, and water for another three months. The editor is hopeful they will return to operation. Radio Brod operated on 720 kHz and 97.8 MHz. [3] via [4] via [5]
