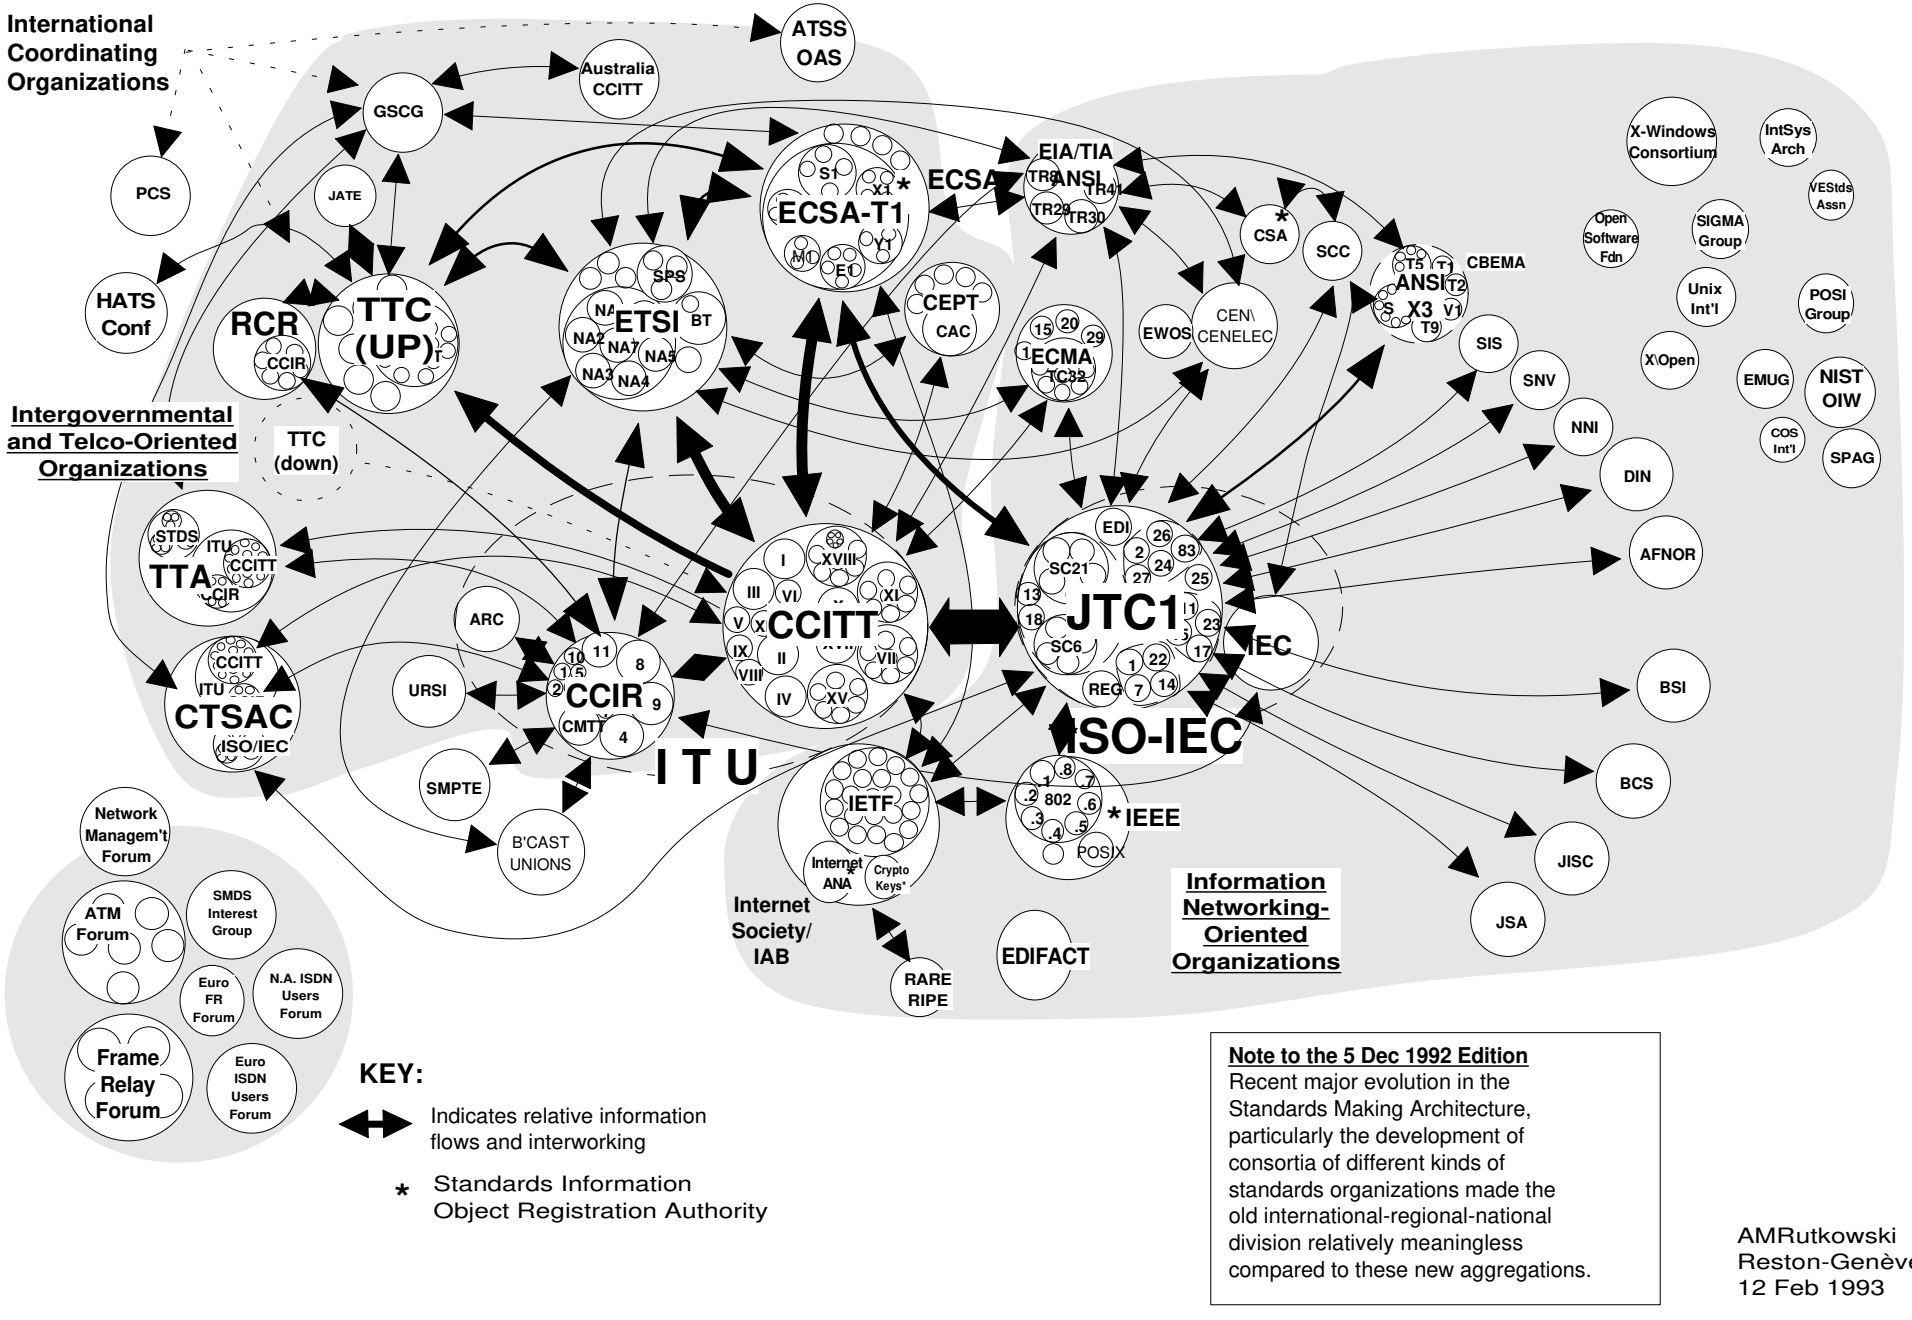
Today's Information-Telecommunications Standards Making Architecture



Note to the 5 Dec 1992 Edition
Recent major evolution in the Standards Making Architecture, particularly the development of consortia of different kinds of standards organizations made the old international-regional-national division relatively meaningless compared to these new aggregations.

AMRutkowski
Reston-Genève
12 Feb 1993